

Sculptures in Progress Gallery and studio

Provides resident sculptors with the ability to produce work in a safe environment. It enables sculptors to exhibit their new works on a daily basis. The studio has a small particle extraction unit as well as shop-vac, workbenches and stools. Workshops may be held in the studio. Each member has a page on the website

Mandate

The Kelowna Sculptors Network Society is a not for profit Organization. Which supports sculptors by providing a venue where they can meet to share ideas and information. The society assists sculptors by organizing shows in galleries and public venues. It is dedicated to promoting public awareness and the appreciation of sculpture through workshops and demonstrations.

Meetings

Kelowna Sculptors Network Society holds monthly meetings. These are usually held in Studio 112 at the RCA on 1st Tuesday of each month at 6.30pm. Please check the Societies website or their Google Calendar to confirm dates and times.

Admissions

Resident artists are members of the Kelowna Sculptors Network Society. Sculptors must be prepared to discuss their planned use of the space. The residency fee is for the personal use of the resident solely.

The resident is asked to spend a portion of time weekly in the space so that the studio and gallery are open to the public for the required time per month. This can be in the evenings as well

Access

The Rotary Centre is open from 8am to 8pm daily.

The studio is open from 8am to 11pm daily

The studio is wheel chair accessible

Workshops

Resident artists may hold workshops in the space. The hours must be agreed upon by the other residents. A 5% fee will be levied on the fees taken for the workshop. If the workshops are listed and registrations are taken by the RCA an additional 5% charge is levied by the RCA.

Shows

Residents will be able to showcase their work in the showcase wall and in the studio. Work will be changed regularly. Members of Kelowna Sculptors Network will have an annual members show and may also apply to have a show in the gallery. Sales from the Gallery are subject to a 5% charge, which goes to the studio. The Rotary Centre levies an additional charge of 15% for the Arts on sales in the studio.
